INDEPENDENCE Sweden Approached At Same Time

LONDON, MAR. 11 (REUTER) - IT WAS REVEALED IN LONDON THAT THE RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR, M. MAISKY, SAW MR. R. A. BUTLER, FOREIGN UNDER-SECRETARY, ON FEBRUARY 22 AND INVITED BRITAIN TO PASS ON THE TERMS TO THE FINNISH GOVERN-MENT.

IT APPEARS THAT ON THE SAME DATE THE SO-VIET MADE AN APPROACH TO SWEDEN WITH SIMILAR TERMS FOR SUBMISSION TO FINLAND.

In the opinion of the British Government these terms were of such an extreme and over-reaching nature as to leave Finland in a completely desperate and hopeless plight. The British Government accordingly refused to pass them on.

Sweden, in fact, passed on the terms and apparently urged their consideration.

In regard to the visit of Herr von Ribbentrop to Rome, the Telegrafo comments that Herr von Ribbentrop knows better than to ask Signor Mussolini to change Italy's policy. His talks will be merely informative.

ECONOMIC PACTS

The two statesmen may conclude new economic conventions to meet the Allied blockade.

"I am satisfied that co-operative industry is a possibility and that it is fulfilling the role that has been assigned to it," stated Mr. Rewi Alley after making a three-month investigation in areas worked by the north-west headquarter of the Chinese Industrial Co-operatives, "Co-operative industry" he said "is reaching new efficiency levels, as economic pressure is increased." Mr. Alley is a technical adviser to the C.I.C.

Mr. Alley admits that there are yet difficulties confronting CI.C. workers in the North-west. "There is especially a great need for co-operative industry in gueri' la districts, where transportation is difficult, but where the soldiers and civilians still need shoes, cloth, leather, and munitions, Numerous refugees from flooded or penetrated areas also come to these districts in search of work.

"PRESSING DEMAND

"Then there are the front-line districts, such as those in the neighbourhood of Yulin, in north Shensi, Chenping, in south Honan, and Lachokou in Hupeh, where there is a great and pressing demand for all kinds of products. A start has been made in organizing productive units in these places and is giving encouragement for further efforts."

INEFFICIENCY WILL BE CRITICISED

THE CASE OF MR. SAITO

THE CASE of Mr. Saito has now agitated Japan for a period of almost two months. Beginning from a fracas in the Diet, it has grown rapidly to involve the whole future of parliamentarism in the country, the attitude of various political groups towards the 'sacred war" in China and, indeed, the whole "New Order in East Asia."

MR. SAITO'S CRIME was that he exposed the threadbare nature of the declared objectives of the Japanese militarists on the Continent, denied that these represented the real interests of the people of Japan, and insisted on an explanation of what the campaign against China designed was really achieve. It was a crime so serious that the extremists in the Diet, egged on by the military, demanded not only his expulsion, but the expulsion punishment of the Speaker who failed to stop him in time, the Secretary who entered his speech in the records, and a number other legislators who at different times had cast asper-sions on the good name of the armed forces.

ANALYSING THE REA-SONS for all this furore, we | must dismiss first of all the thought that Mr. Saito was anything like an enemy of aggression, or was moved by anything other than the ideas of the light industrialists and shipping interests that his party represents. Had he spoken out of outraged idealism or humanitarian sentiment, his outburst would too know the Army's need have been laudable but not of substantial allies in civilian particularly significant. Accused replied saying he had played similarly with himself. In experimenting on the strength of ropes, he had hung himself by the neck from branches of trees.

He denied having said at the lower Court proceedings that he had tied the girdle round the boy's neck to prevent the boy from shouting for help.

Further questioned, accused admitted he wielded heavy hammers in the course of his work as a blacksmith in the dockyard. He said that he did not realise the strength of his fingers nor the degree of strength he used when pressing Li Ping-fai's neck.

He stated that it was not his intention to kill the boy nor had he cause to do so. He did not kill the boy because he held the lad responsible for his loss of a hat belt and ink-pot.

Could Not MISS PAGET'S Evacuation

Upset because he had received his evacuation papers to go with the rest of his office to a Northern town, Sidney Arthur Steel 24, a Civil servant, of St. Philip's-place, Paddington, instead of going to his office in Whitehall jumped 100ft from the roof garden of an Oxford-street store:

PACKED HOUSE FOR BERG

There were surprising crowd scenes at the Devonshire Club, Hackney, when Jack (Kid) Berg, the Stepney welter-weight, met Harry Davis, of Bethnal Green, in a 10-round bout. The doors were closed nearly an hour before the programme was due to begin, and for some time afterwards several hundreds of people clamoured outside.

Berg won on points one of the flercest fights seen at Hackney for many years. The verdict had a mixed reception, but it was well deserved.

After three rounds Davis's better boxing had earned a slight lead. but not all his skill could keep the relentles Berg et bay.

NATIONAL RIVALS

ENTRIES"

Ivor Anthony and his brother Owen, between them have entered seven horses for the Grand National, which is to be run at Aintree on April 5. Ivor's candidates are Royal Mail, who won the race in 1937. The Uplifter and Milano Owen has rominated Kilstar, Roman Hackle. John Chairman and Le Cygne, all of whom belong to Miss Dorothy Paget.

Kilster started favourite for the National last year, but found Workman and Macmoffat too good for him.

Owen Anthony, who saddled Music Hall to win the National in 1922, thought that Kilstar had wonderful chance at the weights last March. "Too good to be true." was how he described it before the race. He was right, but Kilstar might well have won if he had not blundered at Becher's the second time.

Royal Mail was owned by the fate Mr. Hugh Lloyd-Thomas when he won the race. Mrs. C. Evans bought the horse a couple or weeks before the 1938 National. in which he was pulled up after breaking a blood-vessel. He completed the course, again carrying 12st 7lb, last March, and will make another bold bid if the handicapper does not treat him too harshly.

Ivor Anthony also won the race in 1933 with Kellsboro' Jack. owned by Mr. F. Ambrose Clark, to whom belongs The Uplifter, Mr. Clark is an American, as is Mr. Louis Stoddard, the owner Milano. Mr. Stoddard is an accomplished amateur rider and good polo player.

He rode Milano at Aintree last year, the horse coming down at the fence after Becher's the second time round. The Uplifter, too, has had previous experience of the course.

Berg subsequently scored heavily with right hooks to the head and right swings to the body, but he also took considerable punishment to the face from Davis's left. In the last round it became a question of endurance. Hery lasted wonderfully well.
